Exercising in Old Age

At eighty a gentleman in New York At eighty a gentleman in New Lup city commenced trying to walk up the starts of the Evening Post building, made thus: Two quarts scalding hot made there are eleven flights of them, of milk, one cup and a half yellow Indian which there are nine from the street to his office. Any of the elevator men ginger. Let it stand and soak in the to his office. Any of the elevator scalded milk half an hour; then add will tell you that, when the elevator her is at all full, off he will go cherily up all the nine flights, seemingly sone the worse for it. Within a year he also told the writer that he still continued dumb-bell and club work before breakfast daily and simply before breakfast daily and simply because it pays; and he is certainly still a wiry, active man, even though it sixty-two years since he wrote "Thanatopsis." Palmerston went fox-hunting when past eighty; Yanderbilt, no recurrence without groom or companion. younger, without groom or companion, urging his blooded trotters over Harlem Lane at a slashing pace; Gladstone, at sixty-eight, felling Hawarden trees by the hour, and for the benefit the exercise brings—are but a few in-stances of what old men can do when there are band men can do when they try.

None of these are more surprising than, in an intellectual field, the learning of German by Caleb Cushing after he had passed seventy, or Thiere's activity at nearly eighty, or in all ways, than Mosea' doing the forty years best work in his life after he had passed eighty, and yet with eye not dim nor natural force abated. If some men, by oiling their joints daily for, as Maclaren says, "they are called every time they are put in motion only"—can keep those joints from grating and creaking and moving stiffly, even into a ripe old age, why may not others as well? And which of these things which man can, if he will, do so readily, can not woman do as well! It a ripe old age, why may not others as well? And which of these things which man can, if he will, do so readily, can not woman do as well? It needs no money, very little time, little or no present strength. One thing only it does need, and that is perseverence.

One-third of the time often given to the piano will more than suffice. One less study a day of those which are to-less study as the to-less s day overtasking so many school-girls, and insteal judicious, vigorous outdoor exercise aimed directly at the weak muscles, and taken as regularly as one's breakfast, and is there any doubt which will pay the better, and make the girl the happier, the fitter for her studies, and the more attractions of the studies, and the more attractions of the studies and the studies and the studies are the studies are the studies and the studies are the studies are the studies are the studies are the studies and the studies are the studies ar ive as well? We trust that the day is not far off when no boy or girl will be sent to a school where care is not taken to develop vigorous, healthy bodies, and when that vigor and health will be the rule and not the exception among men and women alike, and in every walk in life. - Harper's for May. Quartz, Freight and Farm

A Danbury boy was taken to task by his mother for striking a com-panion. She told him he must ask the forgiveness of the wronged one. He went up to him and whispered through his clenched teeth: "I've got to ask you to forgive me for hit-ting you, and you had better speak right up at once that you do, or I'll give you something to remember."

The victim spoke up.

Under the ruling of the Ohio courts no parents have the right to enter the room in which their daughter is sparking without a-king and obtaining her consent. The purent can, however, put his or her mouth to the keyhole of the door, and say: "I'll give that chap two minutes in which to git up and git."

"Do you think, William," said Mrs. Brown to her husband the other night, "that the telephone will ever be as generally used as the telegraph?" "Why, yes," replied Brown, "the time is coming when it will be as common is coming when it will be as common to telephone as it seems now to tell—a fib."

A tomcat is a more independent ani-mal than man. When a man comes home at 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning he slips in as quietly as possible, but a tomcat don't seem to care. The later the hour and the nearer the house it approaches the louder it will yell.

These are indeed days of progress. It took Moses forty years to travel through the wilderness. The Chicago bank cashier of to-day would cover the ground in about twenty-fone

CREMATION OUTDONE.—Deacon Bill Gibson, one of Gold Hill's most devout citizens, has a new javention which will supersede burials and ceremations. He has discovered a remarkable volatile gas, which has great buoyancy. His idea is to get a kind of balloon that will be strong enough to sustain the weight of a human body. When he dies his remains will be placed in one of these machines and turned loose. Of course it will shoet upward into the upper atmosphere, where every thing is so cold that decomposition will never take place. The balloon will be above the belts of moliture, and the action of the elements will be entirely suspended, so that the balloon will last forever. Thus will the good man accomplish his heart's wish in getting gest to heaven and at the same time open to the minds of the people a new and beautiful thought with regard the disposition of their beloved dead. CREMATION OUTDONE. - Deacon Bill one cup mollasses, to eggs, a piece butter size of a walnut. Bake two hours. This receipt is much improved with whortleberries or raisens, and, if liked, apples. But with this change, add a cup of suct cut in small pieces,

Mr. Durand commiserates himself that he is obliged to pay 1500 francs to procure a substitute in the army for his son, and explains in the simplicity of his grief: "How unfortu-nate he is not the son of a widow!"

BLAIR'S RESOLUTION DEAD.

A Hereld Washington special says A carivasa by the Herald corres-A carival by the Herald correspondent of the Senate and House of Representatives on the bill introduced by Kimmell, at the suggestion of Montgomery Blair, to allow of quewarranto proceedings in the United States Supreme Court to ascertain the validity of the title of the incumbent of the Presidency, has disclosed the fact that 206 members of both houses oppose the scheme.

A large number of Congression was interviewed on the subject and were interviewed on the subject, and, with few exceptions expressed emphatic epiptuition to a revival of this pnatic epipulition to a revival of this controversy. Blair has succeeded in making an of himself, while Tilden, by quietly sanctioning Blairs' resolution, has quite killed himself for the Russians have unsuccessfully atthe Presidency in 1880. Of course Hendricks and other leading Pennog crats have not held Tilden back, and he has shown to the proppe of the United States, that however good a lawyer he may be his egotism is insufferable, the salasbues, vanity and want of becoming dignity is disgustingly apparent. Tilden has settled forever his candidacy for the Prer o dency.

MR. MOEWEN.

Mr. Arthur McEwen, a well known Mr. Arthur McEwen, a well known journalist, will soon take editorial charge of the Eureka Republican. Mr. McEwen has filled several important positions on the press of Nevada and California, and has a thorough knowledge of the business of conducting a wide-awake newspaper. He is one of the most brilliant writers on the coat, and while employed on the Gold Will the most brilliant writers on the coast, and while employed on the Gold Hill News, made for himself an enviable reputation as "Blinkenberry," a name by which he is known all over the United States.—Carson Appeal.

We know Mac well and a more genial fellow we have not met. He is as witty as most humorous writers and more industrious and energetic than the majority who swing the funny pen. But Mac does not confine himself to witicism, or to such articles a Biefoe writes in the Argomant. He can take up an editorial and give his readers a live, sensible article. McEwen, success to you and here sto II. C. and the D. R. S. 10

Telegraphic reports from the lower Rio Grande indicate that about twenty persons were killed by the recent Indian raiders. Nine persons are known to have been killed by the raiders on the northwest border between Fort Concho and Stockton. It might be as well for our government to allow Gov. Hubbard of Texas to send some of his rangers after these raiders, with full liberty granted to cattle thieves that they may find.

This border line warfare is either exaggerated, or else our government is lax in instating on the observance of American rights along the Rio Grande. There are outlaws there who of course are not alone confined to Indians and are not alone confined to Indians and Mexicans, nor are these villains all living south of the Rio Grande, But peace and good order can be secured and steps to that end should not be delayed.

BASTERN WAR NEWS.

The Eastern situation grows more is confined exclusively to stockholders. complicated each day. When the The directors offer a reward of $5,000 prospects of peace began to become more distinct and assume a character which inspired confidence in the minds of the people that incipient peace had quite begin, the Musselmen of Bulgaria rabe in an insurrectionary body and kill 500 Russian soldiers and eight officers, beside a large number of Christian Bulgarians. The cause of this uprising proceeds from persecutions to which these Musselmen have pjected by those on whom they now seek tevenge. The affair is unfortunate if no injustice has been done. But we are equally but quite agreeably surprised to find that the diffi-culty is to be investigated by a peace commission composed of Russian and Turkish authorities.

Dr. Linderman says that there is no authority of law for receiving trade dol-lars at the United States Treasury or mints as coin in exchange for other mints as coin in exchange for other kinds of money. Holders of such may, however, sell them to the mint as bullion. At the present price of silver, they would realize about 93 is cents each payable in gold coin or standard from dollars.

Too Much of a Ladies Man. San Francisco dispatch, dated April 24, says:

24, says:

In San Francisco, Wednesday morning, John Gamage, a real estate agent, attempted to assassinate A. J. Bebreton, of the law firm of Irvine, Lebreton & Co. As Lebreton was about going on board the Oakland ferry boat, en route East, Gamage attacked him, firing a shot from his pistol, but missed his mark. He then drew a knife and stabbed Libreton inflicting severe wounds, but the parties were separated in time to prevent a fatal result. As both parties are well known in soonal and business circles, the affair has created considerable interest. Lehreton has the reputation. tation of being a ladies' man and, as the story goes, had persuaded Gamage's sister, Mrs. Johnson, to obtain concluded to jump the town and go East, which project has been frustrated for the present be Gamage's decided

JUST THE THING .- A neatly dressed man can take some comfort with himself and at the same time be favorably regarded by his friends. It is true and the following officers have been economy to buy good clothing, and of elected: President, J. H. Maxwell; a style in conformity with the pre- Vice-President, F. A. Sloss; Tressurer, vailing patterns. The next question J. H. Segrave; Secretary, E. V. Spen is, where shall one get, during these hard times, a good article of underwear, business or dress suit, which gives satisfaction in price and quality of goods? Messrs. Cohen & Isacs, at the Branch White House, on Commer. cial Row, next door to the postoffice, is your place gentlemen. They have all the latest styles of men's and boy's clothing, and at all prices and sizes. Their stock is both large and complete. A man can go into their store and get a full outfit, bat, suit of outer and are at once attractive, gorgeous and under wear, and boots or shoes as he may prefer. These gentlemen have just received a full stock of spring and summer clothing, and defy competition in their selling prices, as well as in the quality of goods which they sell.

WORKINGMEN. - The new faction of the Workingmen will meet to-morrow evening at the Reno Opera House. None but genuine workingmen are requested to be present. Addresses will be delivered by Col. L. Richardson, Mr. Jones and others. A rousing meeting is anticipated and stirring times are expected.

LECTURE - Rev. S. Monroe Hub bard will preach at the Baptist church this evening. Subject: "Vanety in the midst of Roundless Unity," are confielly invited to attend.

Our neighbor, the Journal, got the drop on us," sometime last night, and secured the Grand Jury report, a short two columns of which appears in that paper this morning. It is very natu-ral that our friend should feel elated over his success, and we could forgive any little exhibition of pride on his part that the circumstances would seem to warrant. We can not forbear, however, in justice to the Journal readers as well as our own, to urge for particulars. upon our neighbor the advisability of publishing the complete report some in the last 48 hours. We recollect divers and sundry in P. P. Forguese ships. We recollect divers and sundry instances in which the enterprise of that institution was taxed to the utmost in the production of quarter and half-column extras detailing affairs, interesting enough as legitimate locals, but as material for extras exceedingly thin What has come over that paper! Why does it neglect its opportunity! Is the Grand Jury report to be placed on a par with such solid reading as Joses' speech on the silver bill, and continued from day to day to suit our neighbor's convenience, and used as "fill up?" He says he will "continue it to morrow"—thus showing his appreciation of a good thing. For Pactory near iron hridge, Reno. 15-8 They were sented together, side by side, on the sofa, in the most approved lover fashion—his arm encircling her taper waist, etc.

"Lizzie," he said, "you must have read my heart ere this; you must know how dearly I love you.

"Yee, Fred you have certainly been very attentive," said Lizzie.

"But, Lizzie, darling, do you love me? Will you be my wife?"

"Your wife, Fred! Of all things, no!
No, indeed, nor any one else's."

"Lizzie, what do you mean?"

"Just what I say, Fred. T've two married sisters."

married sisters."
"Certainly! and Mrs. Hopkins and Mrs. Skinner have very good husbands, I believe."
"So people say; but I wouldn't like to stand in either May's or Nell's shoes; that's all."
"Lizzie, you astonish me."
"Look here, Fred, I've had over twenty-five aleigh-lides this winter, thanks to you and my other gentlemen friends."

friends."

Fred winced a little here, whether at the remembrance of that unpaid livery bill, or the idea of Lizzle's sleighing with her gentlemen friends I can ing with her gentlemen friends I can not positively answer.

"How many do you think my sisters have had? Not the sign of one, either of them. Such pretty girls as May and Nellie were, too, and so much attention they used to have!".

"Now, Lizzie—"

"I am fond of going to the theater occasonally, as well as a lecture or a concert sometimes, and I shouldn't like it if I proposed attending any such entertainment to be invariably told that times were hard and my hustold that times were hard and my hus-band couldn't afford it, and then have him sneak off alone."
"Lizzie, Lizzie—"

"And theu if once in a dog's age he did condescend to go with me any-where in the evening, I shouldn't like where in the evening, I shouldn't like to be left to pick my way along the slippery places at the risk of breaking my neck, he walking along unconsciously by my side. I'm of a dependent, clinging nature, and I need the protection of a strong arm."

"Lizzie, this is all nonsense."

"I'm the youngest of our family, and perhaps I've been spoiled. At all events, I know it would break my heart to have my husband vent all the ill-temper which he conceals from the world on my defenseless head."

"But, Lizzie, I promise you that I—"

"Oh, yes, Fred; I know what you are going to say—that you will be different; but Mary and Nell have told me time and again that no better husbands than theirs ever lived. No, Fred; as a lover, you are just perfect, Fred; as a lover, you are just perfect, and I shall hate awfully to give you up. Still, if you are bent on marrying, there are plenty of girls who have not married sisters, or who are not wise enough to profit by their example, if they have. And don't fret about me, for I've no doubt I can find some one to fill your place..."

one to fill your place—"
But before Lizzie had concluded,
Fred made for the door, muttering something "unmentionable to ears polite."

"There?" exclaimed Lizzie, as the door closed with a bang. "I knew he was no better than the rest. "That's the way John and Aleck swear and slam doers, when things don't go just right. He'd make a perfect bear of a husband, but I'm sorry he came to the point so soon, for he was just a splendid beau."—New Brunswick Fre-

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY'S Private Medical Institute. 209, Keanney Street, San Francisco.

Established in 1854,

For the Permanent Cure of all Special and Chronic Diseases, as also all

Female Complaints and Diseases of the Neryous System.

THE IMMENSE DESTRUCTION OF human life annually from secret and chronic diseases, caused this old and reliable institution to be established, first in Philadelphia, Penn., in 1850, and afterwards in Saperancisco, Cal., in 1854, as a private dispensary, in order to afford the afflicted the best medical and surgical treatment, for the above and all other affections and compiants. Coasultation at the Institute, or by letter, FREE To the Afflicted:

Dr. L. J. Czapkay would most respectfully inform the public of the Pacific coast that, at the earnest solicitation of his numerous friends, and hundreds of those unfortunately afflicted with disease, he has reopened his MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE and resumed the practice of his profession. The Doctor would remind all those who are in need of medical aid, that since relinquishing his very extensive and successful practice in San Francisco, he has visited the principa cities in Europe, inspecting diligently the experience of the most learned in the profession, the benefit from which he offers te all in need of his services. Rheumanic affections, chronic catarrh, diseases of the atomach and kidneys, liver complaints, etc., successfully treated. Those who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, physical and mental debility, are assured of a permanent cure. Charges moderate. All communication strictly confidential. Medicines sent by express. Address,
